

Why Spend Thousands of Dollars on a New ZF Torque Converter?

If your ZF torque converter looks like

instead of

you don't need a professional magician, you need a professional remanufacturer!

While professional magicians never reveal their secrets, Joseph Industries is proud to let you know that each welded ZF torque converter is cut open, chemically cleaned and thoroughly inspected. Critical wear items such as hubs, bearings, sprag clutches and thrust washers are discarded and replaced with industrial rated parts. Pilots, drive lugs and thrust surfaces are renewed to their original specifications. Each converter is then reassembled, tested for leaks, computer balanced to within 5 grams or less and dial indicated to verify that runout is maintained within OEM specifications.
